Dear Madam:

Several days ago Mrs. Rush brought into us a number of coins collected in the East stating that you wish to get them valued, in order to be posted as to what you should get as you desire to sell them. We have looked these over and one of our members is willing to buy the whole lot and makes an offer of $99.50. We feel that this is a good offer at this time and is more than you would get by taking them to any dealer downtown. If this price is agreeable to you we can have a check sent to you.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Wood:

I have your letter of May 11th and note the offer of $99.50 for the entire lot of my coins left by Mrs. Rush with you for appraisal. I appreciate the fairness of this offer and presume my endorsement of your check when received will be a satisfactory receipt to you.

Please accept my thanks for your interest in the matter.

Yours very truly,

Georgia Fiske
